The New York Bolt-

any other Democrat would stand the ghost of a chance of being elected President of the United States on a free-silver plank. That is to say the anti-silver Democrats are monometallists first and Democrats afterwards, and this, though they well know that a large majority of the Democrats in Congress and out of it are bimetal-lists. Nevertheless the monometallists have the face to ask the bimetallists to yield to the minority. These monometailists are to be found principally in the Republican States of New England, and in the Middle States. In some of the western States, too, they are numerous enough to command the services of even The New York bolt was a bolt of anti-silver men. That is to say, FAIRCHILD, ELLERY ANDERSON, OTTENDORFER, and all, or nearly all, the leaders of the Cooper-Union meeting are opposed to the free coinage of silver, and are ready to sacrifice the Democratic party upon the altar of Mammon. They are, as we have just said, monometallists first and Democrats afterwards. They care naught for the South, naught for the force bill, naught for tariff reform, naught for anything else so long as they cannot carry their point Now, the regular Democrats who held that the success of the Democratic party is necessary to the prosperity, peace, and hap-piness of the country-who are Democrats first and bimetallists afterwards-can stand a good deal of unfair treatment without even threatening to disrupt the party to which they are in two senses atsched. They have allowed themselves to be overslaughed and their opinions on economical questions to be treated with contempt even by national conventions. We believe that the "Old Guard" could be relied upon even now to rush into the presidential battle and slay their enemies right and left despite the fact that the monometallist minority have manifested no disposition to agree to a compromise on the question of free coinage. But we submit that it is expecting a little too much to hope for the "Old Cuard" thus to rush into battle under the leadership of the New York bolters. In the name of justice and common sense, do not ask the binetallists to surrender the them to agree to the decapitation of their leaders. Will it not suffice to require the of bimetallism? Must the Democrats of the whole Union consent to take nominee at the hands of the New York olters? Is not this asking too much?

Shall we be told that the advocates of a gold standard are ready and willing to agree to a reasonable compromise? Well, what is a reasonable compromise? We answer that it would be a compromise for both monometallists and bimetallists to consent to go West in search of a nominee bimetallists are expected to give way on the question of the free comage of silver surely the monometallists ought to give way when it comes to the selection of a candidate. The majority cannot reasonably the battle of financial reform. They certainly ought not to be asked to vote for a monometallist candidate upon a monomet allist platform. In a word, they would stultify themselves if at Chicago they were to nominate a candidate holding HARRInon's opinions on the silver question and construct a platform exactly like Harm-

The World's Fair and the Legislature The result of all the contention in the two houses of the General Assembly about an appropriation to have Virginia repre-sented at the World's Fair is that $25,000 was voted on yesterday.

The Senate was in favor of $50,000, but the House could only be gotten to set apart one half of that sum, and there was therefore nothing lett for the Senate but

It is useless to weep over this ill luck. The necessity of the situation demands that the friends of the measure, in and out of the General Assembly, should go to work straightway to supplement this amount by liberal contributions from individuals and corporations. Altogether, we will probably get together enough money to build at Chicago a fac simile of Wash-proton's home at Mt. Vernon and place therein an exhibit of the chief industries and natural resources of the State. As we are to have an Exposition at Richmond this fall a good collection can be easily Nearly all of the other measures which have enlisted favorable public interest are ractically closed.

The debt-settlement bill, the oyster bill, the bill for the distribution of the direct-tax, the congressional and legislative re-apportionment bills, the Lee Circle annexation bill, the Soldiers' Home bill, and the ieneral Assembly here, and the course of ts legislation, as we have often said, has been marked by great conservatism.

It is not probable that it has satisfied everybody, but we believe that it is appiated and approved by the general

Secretary BLAINE is an able diplomat, of course, and is well skilled in the use of the ben, but this is the first time that he has had a public discussion with women, and it had a public discussion with women, and it is not yet quite clear that he can claim a very severe language, but there is a lau-guage in manner that is more cutting than any words can be.

Possibly Mrs. Blanks, Sr., used the "freezing-out" process in dealing with Mrs. Blanks, Jr. That the Neviness deserved the treatment they received is quite possible; but this is not the ground that the able Secretary takes. On the contrary, harsh treatment and ill-natured remarks on the part of his wife. At any rate, it is difficult to see where the Secretary has gained any advantage in projecting upon the country his view of the marriage and make instructions which must greeve Mr. BLAIRE very sorely, and which, in view of his retirement from active participation in politics, he doubtless hoped that he had heard the last of.

Parliamentary Usage.

It is a time-honored and wise parliamentary law that no member of the House or of the Senate shall be permitted to refer to the proceedings of the other body; but here we have seen it broken over and over again at this session.

Such proceedings have not only been discussed, but sharply criticised, and a member of one branch has been reproached for offering an amendment which it was stated had been rejected by a vote of the other branch.

All this is wrong, and we trust that the lapses in this respect that have been re-cently allowed, inadvertently no doubt, will not be taken as precedents, though we know that they are very likely to be. The independence and dignity of each house requires that it should act upon the questions before it uninfluenced and unbiased by what has taken place, or may take place, in the other house. That is the The Halifax Record-Advertiser says that general law; that is the Virginia custom. neither Hill, nor Gorman, nor Boils, nor Let us adhere to it.

Board Meetings.

The exceeding probability is that it would be greatly to the public advantage if all the boards of visitors and directors of State institutions would hold meetings open to the public, or at least open to newspaper representatives.

Many things are passed unnoticed and uncontested at secret meetings that would be thoroughly discussed and dissected at public meetings. It is so as to auditing accounts, as to removing and appointing officers, as to increasing salaries, as to giving places to relatives of important persons, &c., &c.

other. A good housekeeper We know of at least one institution that would be better off had all the board's meetings been held in public rather than anything that dirt can settle in private.

It is rumored that Grover Cleveland does no look with favor upon the proposition to hold an-other Democratic State Convention in New York. It would be rather strange if Mr. Cleveland turned out not to be a Cleveland Democrat .- New

Mr. CLEVELAND would be a very unwise man if he should countenance a bolt in his own State. He knows that such "revolting" won't do. He could not go to Chi-cago with the delegates to be selected by the Syracuse convention. If he were to do so he would at once cease to be able to secure a respectable number of supporters in the Democratic National Convention.

When we used the word "politicians in speaking of the Wiszs, we intended to convey the meaning that they had a natural inclination to politics. "Politician" is a good word. When SHAR-SPEARE speaks of a "scurvy politician," the use of the adjective implies that there are good, statesmanlike politicians as well as "scurvy "ones. Otherwise, the great poet might have said, "Like a politician.

We publish the New York Herald's guess as to the results of the first ballot in the Chicago convention, though we are sure that it places Virginia in the wrong

We think it is exceedingly improbable that CLEVELAND will get our twenty-four votes on the first ballot, though the Heraid has the opinion of Congressman O'l BALL that he will.

In the charter elections which took place in many towns and cities of New York Tuesday the Democrats met with some reverses. In Elmira and other places the Republicans and anti-HILL men formed combinations which proved successful. In some towns the CLEVELAND and HILL men each had tickets in the field.

AGUESS AT THE FIRST BALLOT.

The Estimate of the Washington Correspondent of the New York Herald.

The Herald of yesterday says that it "presents a timely and highly interesting table showing what are at the present moment the presidential preferences of the Democracy in the various States. It shows more. It gives the probable vote of the various delegations for the two leading candidates and shows what States will send delegations to Chicago in favor of the selection of a western man.

"This table has been carefully and accurately prepared. It is supported by interviews with well posted Democrats from each one of the States and Territories, on whose judgment the expressed probability as to how the respective delegations will vote are based. There has been no guesswork, every figure in the table being sustained by competent and quoted authority. This table, which is sure to excite great attention all over the country, shows that Mr. Hill leads Mr. Cleveland but very little at the present time and that the mass of the Democracy is looking to the West for a man to lead them to victory.

"There will be, according to the best authority obtainable, 900 delegates admitted to the Chicago convention. Some politicians maintain that only 852 are admissible. They claim that the new congressional reapportionment law does not go into effect until the 4th of March, 1893, when the new Congress convenes."

The manner in which the several State delegations will vote is based upon interviews which follow the table:

"Hill had no positive strength in North Carolina until after the New York convention." said Congressman Henderson, of North Carolina. "Since then his name is frequently mentioned. Cleveland has always been the real favorite with the North Carolina Democrate, but his aliver letter alienated some of his strength. The way things look now in New York neither Hill nor Cleveland will get the support of our twenty-two delegates, nor, I think, of any considerable portion of the convention."

In short, Mr. Cleveland will have to declare himself, and the longer this declaration is delayed the more rapidly will he lose his hold on the affections of the Democratic party. He will be compelled to declare whether he is in favor of the party organization or whether he proposes to continue to lead the attack which is now made on it in his name. This is a very serious matter for Mr. Cleveland, and it will grow more serious the longer he delays the declaration which the party will demand of him.
